An informal reception will be given in the home of the bride, where the decorations will be in pink and white. The honeymoon will be spent in the South. Out of town wedding guests will be Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Creath, of Richmond; Miss Ollie Gregory, of South Richmond; Miss Mary E. Hartwell, of Richmond; Miss Hattie Taylor, of North Carolina; Miss Mary Wood, of Emporia.

Invitations Issued.

Mrs. Frank M. Wright has issued invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Caskie Miller, to James Ligon Price, the marriage to take place November 30, at 8 P. M., in the Presbyterian Church at Ashland, Va.

Debutante Dances and Receptions.

Mrs. Aubin L. Boulware, of East Franklin Street, will introduce her daughter, Janie Preston, to Richmond society at a reception to be given in her home, on Monday evening, November 23, at 9 o'clock.

Miss Boulware returned to Richmond last summer, as a graduate of a famous girls' school, at Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia. She is one of the most attractive of the season's group of debutantes.

Miss Mary Scarborough, who has visited in Richmond and is pleasantly known here, will make her debut at a cotillion to be given by Mrs. Philip Johnson at the Jefferson Hotel, on the evening of December 5, at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Headley, of 1822 Monument Avenue, will be at home on the afternoon of November 22, in honor of Mrs. Johnson and Miss Scarborough.

Mrs. Coke's Reception.

Mrs. John A. Coke, Jr., will give an afternoon reception, Wednesday, November 23, at her home, 1014 West Grace Street, to her sister Mrs. Hubbard.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club met Monday night with Miss Mattie P. Harris, 212 East Franklin Street, three tables being engaged. Top score was made by Mrs. Bland Smith and S. W. Travers.

The club meets next Monday night at Mrs. Harrie Webster's, The Chestnutfield.

Executive Committee Meeting.

An executive committee meeting of the Richmond Education Association will be held to-day at 4 P. M., in room 116, John Marshall High School.

Chapter Meeting.

The monthly meeting of Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held in Lee Camp Hall at 11 A. M. to-day. The delegates to the Little Rock Convention returned to Richmond yesterday afternoon, bringing with them the pleasing announcement that the next U. D. C. Convention will be held in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Cole, the distinguished Virginia sculptor, has been chosen to execute the monument over the Confederate dead that will be placed in Arlington Cemetery.

Cole-Price.

The Washington Post of yesterday contained the following account of a wedding in which Virginia people are interested:

"In a pretty home wedding Miss Fannie Price was united in marriage to Rev. Stockton W. Cole at Bealeton, Monday, Rev. T. E. Brown officiating.

"The bride is the eldest daughter of Hon. J. M. Price, a member of the State Legislature from Fauquier County, and is well known in church circles. She is a skilled organist of the Baptist church in her home city.

Mr. Cole is an evangelist of the Baptist Church of recognized ability. The ceremony was attended only by relatives and immediate friends of the family, including Miss Wise, of Culpeper; Miss Carter and Miss Grayson.

"After a trip to New York, Rev. and Mrs. Cole will attend the General Association meeting at Roanoke, Va., Trow-Harper.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Edmonds Harper, daughter of the late Robert W. Harper, of Leesburg and Washington, and Dr. Walter Gordon Trow, of Southern Virginia, will take place this evening at 8 o'clock, at Metropolitan Church, Washington.

Rev. Paul Hickok will perform the ceremony, and the bride will be escorted and given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Bernard F. Harper. Her sister, Miss Roberta Wallace Harper, will be her only attendant. Dr. Earl Clark, brother-in-law of the bridegroom will act as best man. Messrs. Harry F. Harper, Randolph M. Harper, J. William Harper and Leslie Holt will be the ushers. Following the ceremony a reception will be held in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert W. Harper, in Park Road, for the bridal party and out-of-town guests. The young couple will make their future home at Hallwood, Va.

The father of the bride was a member of former Governor M. W. Ragsdale's staff, and both he and Mrs. Harper were guests of Governor and Mrs. Montague on several occasions.

Truxton-Reynolds.

Captain and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds, of the United States Navy, have issued invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Ethel Barbour, and William Talbot Truxton, which will take place on the United States steamship Franklin, the evening of Saturday, December 3, from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Reynolds during her residence in Norfolk, has been one of the most popular and attractive girls of her set, and Mr. Truxton, who is the youngest son of Mrs. Truxton and the late Commodore William Talbot Truxton, United States Navy, has hosts of friends in both the business and social circles of this city.

In and Out of Town.

Mrs. L. C. Stone, of Lynchburg, is visiting her son, Captain J. H. Stone, at 506 North Fifth Street. She is en route to Charleston, S. C., for a visit.

Miss Gertrude Temple Trevillian has returned to the city after spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Graham, in New York City, and is leaving shortly to be the guest of Miss Louise Hensley, of Warminster, Va., for a few days.

Second Mistrial Results.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., November 15.—The case of Nannie Mitchell Martin, the negro charged in the Corporation Court with attempting to murder her son by administering poison while he was in jail, resulted this evening in a mistrial. This is the second jury that has been unable to arrive at a verdict. Antiseptic tablets were found concealed in candy sent by the woman to her son.

Got Cuticura. In 3 Days Relief. In

"I have a little baby almost a year old. When it was two months old it got eczema on top of both her hands, on her face and inside her nose and mouth. She refused to drink and one of her eyes almost closed up. A hard crust formed and would crack open and the blood ran out. It itched so frightfully that the poor child would cry all day and night. We had to keep mitts on her hands to stop her from scratching at her face and her mother was forced to sit in a rocking chair with the baby day and night. We had a very good doctor and he did all that he possibly could to relieve the baby's torture but the results were not what we had looked for.

"We had read of the Cuticura remedies so we went to the drug store and got some Cuticura soap and Cuticura ointment. We used them just as directed and in three days the crust began to come off. In a week there was no more scab and now the baby is cured without a mark. Sleeps soundly in her cradle and her parents in their bed, with no more sleepless nights because of the baby's suffering. Cuticura seems a wonderful remedy for the disease and any one having eczema should not delay in getting it. Henry M. Fogel, R. F. D. 1, Bath, Pa., Dec. 1, 1909.

GLADYS BRADLEY,

Who, Convinced That William Thaw Has Reformed, Yesterday Accompanied Him to the Marriage License Bureau to Procure a Permit to Wed.

HE SOWED WILD OATS; REAPS BRIDAL ROSES

"Billy Thaw," Harry's Nephew,
Apparently Reformed, Gets License to Wed Miss Bradley.

New York, November 15.—William Thaw, nephew of Harry Kendall Thaw, will marry in the St. Regis Hotel on December 1. He appeared at the marriage license bureau yesterday with Miss Gladys Vergine Bradley, daughter of Charles H. Bradley, of 421 Clinton Avenue, Bridgeport, Conn., and applied for a license. Thaw gave his age as thirty-three. Miss Bradley said she was twenty-one.

She is a sister of Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, of Philadelphia. She consented to become Thaw's wife only after his mother guaranteed that he would reform his habits and that she, the parent, would be responsible for his conduct. The engagement was announced on September 2, and the inference is that Thaw has finished sowing his wild oats.

Four years ago the pace he was leading became so hot that Thaw's mother sought to have him examined to determine whether he was capable of managing his fortune of about $2,000,000. She had him adjudged an habitual drunkard. But further court proceedings were stopped on his promise to behave himself. He consented to go to a ranch in Wyoming for six months, but could not stand the simple life, and soon returned.

About that time he performed his most sensational feat. In the Allegheny Country Club one afternoon he bet that he could drink seventy glasses of brandy-and-soda and "never turn a hair." He won the bet, but spent several days in a hospital recovering from the effects of the huge consumption of liquor.

Ten years ago he was traveling with his family, when he was introduced to her. He was not seen for two months, though detectives hunted for him. One day he appeared at the hotel with a woman named Susan. He introduced her to his mother as his wife. Thaw said he had been exploring in the Sudan, and under the influence of some native doctor had gone through the tribal marriage ceremony with the black woman. It was only with great difficulty that the family were able to send the young woman back to her people.

One of Thaw's favorite feats when drunk was to get on an ocean liner without enough money to pay his passage. He was nearly always lucky enough to find some one from Pittsburg who would lend him enough to get him out of the scrape.

One day the manager of a New York hotel refused to lend him any more money.

"Well, there's lots of money in London," Thaw said, "so I'll go there and get it." He called a cab, was driven to a pier and went to sleep in a cabin on a liner due to sail next morning. He was not discovered until the pilot boat had departed. He did not pay for his passage until he arrived on the other side, where he telegraphed for funds.

In the Holland House last night Thaw would say nothing about his marriage, except that it would take place in the St. Regis on the date given above.
